Publication Project

Crossing Borders and Bridging Gaps in English Language Teaching and Research, Series in Linguistics, Culture and FLT, issue 1, 2017

Dear Researcher,

It is our pleasure to invite you to collaborate in a research project of the Department of English Studies at Shumen University, Bulgaria, entitled "Crossing Borders and Bridging Gaps in English Language Teaching and Research".

Borders could be viewed as a cultural, political and economic phenomenon. Borders on the one hand, divide, while on the other hand, maintain a cultural identity and uniqueness of people. In addition, borders could be viewed as obstacles or restrictions to achieving one's goals.

The current project aims at overcoming obstacles and extending beyond the physical and cultural boundaries of the researchers involved, thereby filling in the literal as well as figurative gaps in ELT and research. To that purpose we welcome papers with broad cultural and theoretical background that dwell on the abovementioned topic.

Accepted papers will undergo double blind peer-review and would be published in Series in Linguistics, Culture and FLT, issue 1, 2017, ISSN 2534-9538, SJIF 2016 = 3.363.
